Words are flowing out like endless rain into a paper cup. They slither while they pass, they slip away across the universe. Polls of sorrow waves of joy are drifting through my opened mind. Possible connections include:

1. Flowing or slipping away from one place to another, the words and joy are metaphorically depicted as rain and waves, respectively.
2. The imagery of rain might symbolize the continuous flow of life's experiences, while waves could represent the transient nature of momentary joys.
3. The mention of the universe suggests a sense of grand scale and the fleeting nature of experiences, emphasizing their transient and universal quality.
4. The phrase "drifting through my opened mind" suggests a state of contemplation or reflection, where the temporary nature of emotions and thoughts is acknowledged.
5. Overall, the musical arrangement captures the essence of these themes through its composition and expression.

Om

No-thing's gon-na change my world

No-thing's gon-na change my world

No-thing's gon-na change my world
Nothing's gonna change my world

Images of broken light, They dance before me like a million eyes, They call me on and on across the universe

Thoughts meander like a restless wind inside a letter box, They stumble blindly as they make their way across the universe
Sound of laughter, shades of earth are ringing through my open ears inciting and inviting me

Limitless undying love, which shines around me like a million suns, And calls me on and on Across the universe

Jai Guru Deva Om
Nothing's gonna change my world
